

Conflict Minerals Statement

Amplicon do not directly purchase any raw ores or virgin metals. We purchase all products directly from the manufacturer, many of which will have been processed through multiple tiers of the global supply chain.

Amplicon will never knowingly purchase any product that contains conflict minerals. However, we do not possess the capability to trace the origins of the raw ores or virgin metals contained in products.

Amplicons commitment to Conflict Minerals:

- Never knowingly procure or supply products that contain 3T&G that fund conflict in the DRC region.
- Require our all of our suppliers to perform due diligence to ensure that they are only using 3T&G that are certified as "Conflict Free".
- Regularly check our suppliers & ensure they provide us with written evidence documenting that the materials used in their products are "Conflict Free".

Amplicons expectations from our suppliers:

- Supply "Conflict Free" products, which means any 3T&G used in the product must not directly or indirectly fund armed groups in the DRC or adjoining countries.
- All suppliers must have a policy regarding conflict minerals that complies with Amplicons policy, have management systems to support compliance and require their suppliers to take the same steps.
- Be able to supply information from their suppliers regarding the source and chain of custody of any 3T&G contained in their products from the supply chain to the smelter level.

If we discover that any of our suppliers are using non-conflict free material, Amplicon will work with the supplier to help their products return to being "Conflict Free".
